A SEASONAL E-ZINE BY SARAH RENÉE

listen | sip | wear | read | live

well, hello!

and happy autumn...

Cozy, but not cold. Slow, but not frozen. Settling into the cooler months feels like the seasonal equivalent of remembering to drop your shoulders away from your ears.

Don't get me wrong, I love the sunshine, but there's a sweet relief to the return to comfy knitwear and fall layers, crunchy leaves and rainstorms, red wine and scary movies.

Autumn gives more permission to introvert, and I'm feeling this in the music I'm listening to, the outfits I'm reaching for, and the books I'm diving into.

In this edition of the des lettres seasonal e-zine you'll find a roundup of fall inspiration curated just for you including a playlist, a brand I'm coveting, a cocktail recipe, a book recommendation and a peek into a famous interior.

Take your time & enjoy.

"Don't you love New York in the fall? It makes me want to buy school supplies. I would send you a bouquet of newly sharpened pencils if I knew your name and address."

Enjoy my take on Half-Baked Harvest's Black Widow Smash cocktail. Or, if this feels energetically incompatible with your Friday evening, pour your favourite glass of red as I often do.

wear aimé leon dore

I'm deeply obsessed with New York fashion and lifestyle brand Aimé Leon Dore. From editorial photography to the unique NY Mets cap colourways, this brand is a mood.

Join me in reading this witchy classic this season. Though I'm aiming to have it read by Hallowe'en so I can rewatch the film on the 31st, I know this novel and its sequels will hold up throughout the colder months.

the Owens'

Okay, so the Owens sister's Practical Magic home isn't real, but the set design and creative construction of a 'shell' home for filming really sets the mood anyways, don't you think? The Victorian architecture, cozy eclectic interior, and rambling gardens equate to my PNW dream witch house.
